Head of Household Qualification Requirements

The law allowing this filing status has very specific rules. You must meet all of the following requirements:

- On the last day of the year, you must be either unmarried and not an RDP, or meet the requirements to be considered unmarried or considered not in a registered domestic partnership as outlined in the tables below (see Step 1 below).
- You must have paid more than one-half the cost of keeping up a home that was, for more than one-half of the year, the main home for you and one of the specified qualifying persons described in the tables below (see Step 2 below).
- Your qualifying person must have been a citizen or national of the U.S. or a resident of the U.S., Canada, or Mexico.
- Your qualifying person must not have filed a joint federal or state tax return with his or her spouse/RDP.

Step 1 - Determine your marital or RDP status (A1 or B1) as of the last day of the year.

A1. Unmarried and not an RDP (if you fall into one of the categories in A1, see table A2 to determine your qualifying person).

For head of household purposes, unmarried and not an RDP means one of the following:

- Never married and never registered as a domestic partner.
- By December 31, you were divorced under a final decree or your registered domestic partnership was legally terminated.
- Legally separated under a final decree by December 31.
- Marriage or registered domestic partnership annulled under a final decree.
- Widowed (spouse/RDP died before January 1).

B1. Considered Unmarried or Considered Not in a Registered Domestic Partnership (if you fall into one of the categories in B1, see table B2 to determine your qualifying person).

- For head of household purposes, considered unmarried means you were legally married as of December 31, but were ending your relationship and you lived apart from your spouse at all times during the last six months of the year.
- Considered not in a registered domestic partnership means you were still registered as a domestic partner as of December 31, but were ending your relationship and lived apart from your RDP at all times during the last six months of the year.

Step 2 - Determine your qualifying person (A2 or B2) based on your marital or RDP status as of the last day of the year.

A2. Qualifying Person Requirements for Individuals who are Unmarried and not an RDP. Your qualifying person must be one of the following:

Your birth child, grandchild, stepchild, adopted child, eligible foster child*, brother, sister, half brother, half sister, stepbrother, stepsister, or a descendant of such an individual, who lived with you for more than half of the year, who did not pay more than half of his or her own support during the year, and who:

1. Did not reach the age of 19 by December 31, or
2. Was a full-time student who did not reach the age of 24 by December 31.

OR

Your birth child, grandchild, stepchild, adopted child, eligible foster child*, or a descendant of such an individual, brother, sister, half brother, half sister, stepbrother, stepsister, parent**, grandparent, stepparent**, son-in-law, daughter-in-law, father-in-law, mother-in-law, brother-in-law, or sister-in-law who lived with you for more than half of the year; or your blood-related uncle, aunt, nephew, or niece who lived with you for more than half of the year. In addition:

1. You must have provided more than half of the individual's support for the year, and
2. The individual's gross income for the year must be less than the federal exemption amount for the year.

* To qualify as your eligible foster child, a child must be placed with you by an authorized placement agency or by a judgment, decree, or other order of a court of competent jurisdiction. Generally, formal placement ends when the child reaches the age of 18.

** Your parent/stepparent need not live with you; however, you must pay more than half the cost of keeping up the home in which your parent/stepparent lived for all of the year.

B2. Qualifying Person Requirements for Individuals who are Considered Unmarried or Considered Not in a Registered Domestic Partnership. Your qualifying person must be one of the following:

Your birth child, stepchild, adopted child, or eligible foster child* who lived with you for more than half of the year, who did not pay more than half of his or her own support during the year, and who:

1. Did not reach the age of 19 by December 31, or
2. Was a full-time student who did not reach the age of 24 by December 31.

OR

Your birth child, stepchild, adopted child, or eligible foster child* who lived with you for more than half of the year. In addition:

1. You must have provided more than half of the individual's support for the year, and
2. The individual's gross income for the year must be less than the federal exemption amount for the year.

* To qualify as your eligible foster child, a child must be placed with you by an authorized placement agency or by a judgment, decree, or other order of a court of competent jurisdiction. Generally, formal placement ends when the child reaches the age of 18.

Head of Household Frequently Asked Questions

Qualifying Person:

A qualifying person is a relative, including an eligible foster child, who can qualify you for the head of household filing status. To determine which relatives can qualify you for the status, see the Head of Household Qualification Requirements.

Can my child qualify both parents for the HOH filing status?

No. A child can qualify only one parent for the HOH filing status in a particular taxable year, and that parent must meet all the HOH requirements. (See the Head of Household Qualification Requirements.)

Can I claim my parent/stepparent as my qualifying person for the HOH filing status?

It depends. If you are married or an RDP on the last day of the taxable year, you cannot claim your parent/stepparent as your qualifying person, even if you did not live with your spouse/RDP during the last six months of the taxable year.

If you are unmarried and not an RDP on the last day of the taxable year, you can claim your parent/stepparent as your qualifying person if you are entitled to claim a Dependent Exemption Credit for your parent/stepparent and if you meet all of the qualification requirements. Your parent/stepparent must be a citizen, resident or national of the United States, or a resident of Mexico or Canada. Your parent/stepparent need not live with you as long as you paid more than half the cost of keeping up the home that was your parent's/stepparent's main home for the entire taxable year.

See FTB Pub. 1540, California Head of Household Filing Status, for more information. To order FTB Pub. 1540, see the assistance information on page 2.

Gross Income:

Generally, gross income for HOH purposes only includes income that is taxable for federal income tax purposes. It does not include nontaxable income such as welfare benefits or the nontaxable portion of social security benefits. Get IRS publication 915, Social Security and Equivalent Railroad Retirement Benefits, at irs.gov if you need more information.

---

Full-Time Student:

Full-time students are those who attended school for some part of at least five calendar months during the year. The school must have a:

- Regular teaching staff.
- Course of study.
- Regularly enrolled student body in attendance.

The student must enroll in the number of hours or courses the school considers as full-time attendance. If the student enrolls in a full-time on-farm training course, then a school, state, or state political subdivision must provide the course. Schools include primary and secondary schools as well as technical schools, colleges, and universities.

Time/Dates Qualifying Person Was in the Home:

To claim the HOH filing status, your child must have lived with you for more than 50 percent of the taxable year. If your child did not live in your home more than half of the taxable year, you may qualify for the Credit for Joint Custody Head of Household. See the Personal Income Tax Booklet (540 Booklet) to determine if you qualify for this credit.

In figuring the amount of time our son lived with me, can I count the time he lived with my spouse and me before we separated?

If	And	Then
You and your spouse separated during the period January 1 to June 30	You were still married at the end of the year	Count only half of the time that you, your spouse, and your son lived together and all the time you and your son lived together without your spouse.
You and your spouse separated during the period July 1 to December 31	You were still married at the end of the year	You cannot qualify for HOH filing status because to be considered unmarried, you must have lived apart from your spouse at all times during the last six months of the year.
You and your spouse separated during the year	You were legally separated by the end of the year	You can count half of the time that you, your spouse, and your son lived together and all the time you and your son lived together without your spouse.

These same rules apply to registered domestic partners.

Eligible Foster Child:

I lived with my girlfriend and her child during the year. Can I consider the child as my stepchild or eligible foster child and claim the HOH filing status using the child as my qualifying person?

No. Because you were never married to the child's parent, the child is not your stepchild. Likewise, the child is not an eligible foster child because only a child who is placed with you by an authorized placement agency or by judgment, decree, or another order of a court can qualify as your eligible foster child.

However, you may be eligible to claim a Dependent Exemption Credit for the child if the child meets all the requirements. See FTB Pub. 1540, California Head of Household Filing Status, for more information on claiming a Dependent Exemption Credit.

To order FTB Pub. 1540, see the assistance information on page 2.

Dates You Lived With a Spouse/RDP:

My spouse and I were separated from the beginning of the tax year until November, when we reconciled. Since we were separated for more than six months of the year, can I still file using the HOH filing status?

No. Because you were married on the last day of the year, you must live apart from your spouse for the entire last six months of the taxable year to qualify for the HOH filing status. Since you lived with your spouse during a part of the last six months of the taxable year, you do not qualify for the HOH filing status.

My registered domestic partner (RDP) and I lived together with my son until July 21. Can I claim the HOH filing status on my tax return since I was not legally married?

No. The rules for RDPs are similar to those for married taxpayers. For California head of household purposes, a taxpayer who was an RDP as of the last day of the tax year must meet the requirements to be "considered not in a registered domestic partnership." One requirement is that RDPs do not live together at any time during the last six months of the year. Since you and your RDP lived together during the first three weeks of July, you do not meet this requirement. See FTB Pub. 1540, California Head of Household Filing Status, for more information. For more information on RDPs, get FTB Pub. 737, Tax Information for Registered Domestic Partners, at ftb.ca.gov.
